Submission of this Declaration does not, by itself, require the Publisher to accept the Project or enter into the proposed Agreement.

6. AUTHORITY OF SUBMISSION

The individual submitting this Declaration on behalf of the Developer confirms that they are authorised to communicate the Developer's intention to enter into the proposed contractual relationship and to submit the relevant Project information for the purposes stated herein.

The Developer confirms that the information provided through the Platform is submitted in good faith and that, to the best of its knowledge, the individual submitting this Declaration has not knowingly provided materially false or misleading information.

Where additional authorisation, verification or documentation is reasonably required for the execution of the Agreement, the Developer agrees to address such requirements through the applicable process.

7. ELECTRONIC CONFIRMATION

This Declaration is made and confirmed electronically through the ASI Games™ Publish Platform. The Developer acknowledges that the Platform may generate and retain an electronic record of the submission, including, where available:

- (a) the Developer's legal entity name;
- (b) the Project title and submitted Project information;

Such records may be retained by the Publisher for administrative purposes, contractual recordkeeping and verification of the Developer's declaration and request to initiate the contracting process, subject to applicable law and the Publisher's relevant data-handling practices.

The electronic confirmation records the submission of this Declaration. It shall not be represented as a cryptographic digital signature unless an appropriate digital-signature mechanism has actually been used.

8. DISTINCTION FROM ACCEPTANCE OF THE AGREEMENT

IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING ELECTRONIC EXECUTION AND DIGITAL ACCEPTANCE

This Declaration records the Developer's intention to enter into the PORTING AND PUBLISHING AGREEMENT. It is not, by itself, the Developer's acceptance or execution of that Agreement.

The parties acknowledge that the Agreement may contain separate provisions governing electronic execution and digital acceptance, including provisions specifying that completion of the Create Your Title workflow and clicking the "Submit" button on the Platform constitutes acceptance of the Agreement.

This Declaration is intended to operate as a separate step in the contracting process. Its submission shall not, by itself, constitute acceptance of the Agreement, waive the need to follow the applicable execution procedure, or replace the final Agreement.

The Agreement shall be concluded in accordance with its applicable terms and execution requirements.

For the avoidance of doubt, the parties' use of electronic records and electronic confirmations in connection with this Declaration shall be subject to applicable law. Nothing in this Declaration shall be interpreted as establishing that the Agreement has been executed where the applicable contractual acceptance or execution requirements have not been satisfied.

9. EFFECTIVE DATE

This Declaration shall be recorded as submitted on the date and at the time at which the Developer completes the relevant electronic confirmation process through the Platform.

The submission record may be used to establish that the Developer communicated its intention to enter into the proposed Agreement and requested that the Publisher initiate contact for the purpose of arranging its execution.

This Declaration shall remain a record of that stated intention and request. It shall not, by itself, constitute the PORTING AND PUBLISHING AGREEMENT or amend any agreement already entered into between the parties.
